Nominations for Council

The following nominations for councillors were made on Monday: D. C. Drain, L. Dutil, J. W. Gresham, L. W. Krebs, J. Montabetti, Michel Rosse, A. McLeod and D. A. Sinclair. We understand that Messrs. McLeod and Drain have withdrawn, leaving six candidates for the three vacant offices.

To The Ratepayers

I regret that owing to circumstances I am obliged to withdraw my candidature for councillor in the forthcoming municipal election. Much as I have the interests of the ratepayers and the town at heart, I feel that there are able men in the field who are more capable and in a better position to look after your interests.

Yours truly,
D. C. Drain.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Roberts are away on an extended holiday trip.

Happenings in and Around Frank

P. H. Dubar, of Fernie, was in town on business this week.

A whist drive is to be held this Friday night at the Sanatorium.

William Simpson left for Lethbridge on Monday, where he will remain a week or so.

Mr. Snowden, of Calgary, was in town a few days this week and registered at the Sanatorium.

Henry Evans, an old-timer of Michel, but now of Hillcrest, was a Frank visitor on Sunday last.

Miss M. Simpson was successful in reaching the seventh position in the Lethbridge Herald subscription contest.

The regular meeting of the Association of Stationary Engineers will be held at the Frank hotel on Thursday night next.

Mr. Bonanica, of Michel, was in town on Thursday in connection with the fire at A. I. Blais' store. Mr. Bonanica is owner of the store. He returned to Michel the same evening.

W. J. Large sears a smile, and a bouncing little boy now disturbs his home. We had been thinking that something unusual had happened when we noticed "W. J." making his annual visitations with a smile broader than an ordinary doorway.

A. C. Reed left for Lethbridge on Monday, having greatly improved in health during his stay at the Sanatorium. Mr. Reed is to speak at Lethbridge on his own behalf in the interest of the office of commissioner of public utilities, for which he is a candidate.

A church concert will be held at some future date. Part of the programme will consist of a dialogue entitled "A Ladies Aid at Mohawk Crossroads," in which some twenty two ladies will participate. The date of the concert will be announced in these columns later.

A meeting was held in the church on Wednesday evening last to consider the children's Christmas Tree question. It was decided to give each child over one year and under fifteen, who is attending school, a stocking filled with fruit and candy. A concert will also be given by the children to mark the event. Rev. Mr. Young is already training the children.

On Thursday morning the townspeople were notified by the local power-house fire whistle of a fire in town, which proved to be in Mr. Blais' store. Lots of willing hands as usual rushed to the scene to give what help they could. The Blairmore motor-car brigade were on the scene in quick time, but their services were hardly necessary as the fire, which had not gained much headway, was soon under control. It was with great difficulty that Mr. Blais succeeded in getting out his safe, account system and cash register. The damage to the stock is considerable, but the store was very slightly scorched. We understand that both the building and stock were

NOTICE

To the Ratepayers of the Town of Blairmore.

Ladies and Gentlemen:
Having been nominated as a candidate for the office of councillor, I beg to ask for your support and vote.

If elected I shall endeavor to work as far as possible for the best interests of the Town of Blairmore.

Yours truly,
J. W. GRESHAM.

partly covered by insurance. Mr. Blais informs us that he has arranged to fill all orders from his Bellevue store for a few days, until he opens up in new quarters in Frank.

In the case of Kidd versus Warner for rent of Cement Lodge, Judge McNeil this week handed down judgment in favor of Mr. Kidd, whereby Warner will have to pay the sum of $440.

Blairmore, Alta., Fri., Dec. 5, 1913

Apparently some of the ratepayers of Blairmore are so utterly illiterate that they are obliged to accept the advice of Frank E. Hinds and others as to how to cast an intelligent vote. Surely it is time for the ratepayers of the town to wake up and not allow themselves to be gulled by any party or clique.We have been handed an article by Councillor Hinds, purporting to be a reply to "Non-Partisan," but criticizing "The Enterprise" on its stand in connection with municipal matters. Had the article been signed by the "author" instead of a party entirely incapable of such construction, we might have given space to it, but we will not encourage any behind-the-scenes criticisms.Monday next, the 8th inst., will be election day with the ratepayers, when they will have an opportunity to decide who they shall look after their interests for the year 1914.It is well known that the ratepayers very little interest in municipal affairs during the past year, and that had they taken a greater interest in the affairs of the town, the year's transactions would have ended much more satisfactorily.The ratepayers know that last year's council was nothing more than a one-man council, and that a great deal of the business of the year was not transacted in a right manner at regular meetings of that body.We believe that Solicitor Moore would not hesitate to admit that he was employed illegally, and that the town could not be held liable for his last six months' retainer fee.The ratepayers have nothing to say against the chief of police as a man or a citizen; but they do object, and have a right to, to the mayor appointing any official against the desires of either the council or the ratepayers. The ratepayers feel that the town has too many officials and cannot bear the expense in that line, and that the moneys being handed out for unnecessary services could be utilized to better advantage in municipal improvements.If the mayor wishes to have certain officials whom the councillors or the ratepayers consider unnecessary, it should be obligatory that the mayor pay the salary of that official.During the past year the mayor has appointed the chief of police on two occasions without the consent of the council, the first occasion following a motion passed in open council "That the services of such official were no longer required."
The towns act empowers the mayor to appoint a constable whenever necessary, or in case of emergency. If Mayor Lyon can show the ratepayers his justification in making the appointments in question, then it would be up to the ratepayers to overlook this grievance; but Mayor Lyon was not justified, and it is up to the ratepayers to guard against a repetition of such a farce.Dressmaking & SewingPRESSING AND CLEANING

Bellevue Happenings

Mr. Harper, of Fernia, was a Bellevue visitor this week.

C. M. O'Brien spoke in the Lyric theatre on Sunday afternoon.

Next Tuesday being election day in District 18, the local mine will be shut down all day.

Mr. Hainer, of Coleman, will visit Bellevue next week and will recite at the concert on Tuesday evening.

The stork dropped a little daughter
at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Stephenson on Sunday evening.

George Brown, who broke his leg some time ago, is able to be about on crutches and is filling his seat in the band.

The West Canadian Collieries
Co. are installing a large generator, and will soon be prepared to supply light to all the buildings in the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Laysam, of Pass-burg, will visit Bellevue next week and will sing at the concert on Tuesday evening. Mr. Laysam is the leader of the Welsh choir at Passburg.

There will be no public Christmas tree in Bellevue this year.
Every effort on the part of the interested few to arouse enthusiasm has failed, and the enterprise could not take root.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos on Friday evening in honor of Frank Watson and Mrs. Walter Wain, who left on the passenger on Saturday night for England.

The children of the junior league are engaging in a contest for the sale of tickets for their concert next Tuesday evening. Tickets are 50 cents and $1.00. Buy a ticket and help the kiddies.

Meers, Tomlinson and Tucker
have been in camp for some time, but they have never appeared in public. At the concert in the Workers' Hall on Tuesday night
they will appear for the first time in their role as Coster Comedians.

The rink is now ready for Jack Frost to come along and give it the finishing touches. Steve Humble is busy dispensing the steel to the novices. There will probably be a circus on the opening days with acrobats performing that would scare Harum or Fourpaw out of a year's growth.

A movement is on the foot to hold a brass instrumental contest in Bellevue early in the new year.
If it matures, this will be one of the great events of the season. We expect to see contestants come from many outside points and it will be one of the best musical treats that ever visited the Crows' Nest Pass.

The third annual memorial service for the victims of the Bellevue mine explosion will be held in the Workers' Hall on Sunday evening next. David Hyslop, of Coleman, will deliver an address in behalf of District 18, U.M.W. of A. Rev.
W. H. Irwin will preach the memorial sermon. The Bellevue band will be in attendance and will play "Jerusalem" and "The Dead March in Saul." The regular church service will be with-drawn on that evening. The memorial service will commence at 7.15.

The executive of the Grand Lodge of the Stationary Engineers Association in session at Edmonton, decided to hold their convention at Frank on or about December the 20th, when it is hoped a large attendance will be present.
Particulars later.

LOVE AND PHILOSOPHY.

FAIR mistress, I would find little
A poem to your love
But that I find my stinging mist
Oftend one who is such a highbrow.

I love you—that I can't deny
You can I quite confess a passion,
But all in vain with love I sigh,
For love, you say, is out of fashion.

You tell me to forget your lover
And not to treat you as a woman,
You offer me affection (they)
As one to just another human.

'Tis hard to love at least for me—
And not appear absurd or comic
To one who still insists that she
Is but a unit economic.

Beloved unit epicure!
I'm bluer than the skies above you,
And as the grass beneath I'm greenest
But, fellow citizen, I love you!

Forget the wisdom of the schools,
Too long philosophy I've parried.
Come, let us be a trace of fools
And go and clownishly get married!

—Chicago Daily News.

Only a Difference in the Kind.

A certain famous physician during the recitation of a Frenchman class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, was body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.

"Mr. Blank," said the scientist, "you may recite."

The freshman opened his eyes slowly. He did not change his somnolent pose.

"Mr. Blank, what is work?"

"Everything is work," was the drawing reply.

"What! Everything is work?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?"

"Yes, sir," replied the youth wearily, "woodwork."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Had the Habit.

"So she is suing to have her husband's will set aside?"

"Yes; she got the habit while he was alive."—Portland Oregonian.

A Tongue Twister.

We are all familiar with the way which the tongue will twist and turn itself and distort the English language.

Every one who has experienced the mortification caused by this perverse and "unhappy member."

A young woman had received a card to a church wedding, and as she entered the crowded church a little late she was considerably confused as to the location of the seat her card indicated.

She had been previously told that her seat was in the second row, a family named Cobb, strangers to her, however. Touching an elderly gentleman on the arm, she sweetly inquired:

"Can you tell me who occupies this place?"—Denver Republican.

Home Manners.

Mr. Peter—Mr. Pleasant has such delightful agreeable manner. I suppose he acquired them while living at home.

Mr. Peter—Hardly! Men as a general rule seem to regard their manners as something to be acquired when they are out of the house.

UNSIGHTLY PIMPLES

CAME ON FACE

Sores Spread Until Face Was Covered. So Itchy Could Not Resist Scratching. Cured Entirely in About Two Weeks by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

Chicago, Ontario—"My trouble started with sores breaking out on the face. They came as pimples and were unsightly. These sores seemed to keep spreading and my face was covered. They were so itchy that as times I could not resist scratching them. After trying two or three different sores which did not stop the sores breaking out, I tried a cake of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I found that they cured me entirely of the sores in about two weeks." (Signed) Fred K. Meyer, Feb. 12, 1912.

LEGS BURNED AND ITCHED

South West, P. R. Island—"My little girl, aged four years, was troubled with a painful rash on her legs. It began in a dry rash very hot and itchy and after a few days it looked like little pimples with a white top on them. Her legs burned and itched very much and was very restless and was also cross and fretful. She used to scratch and make sores where I was not watching her. I had to have her scolded off her as they would irritate her legs. I used to bathe her legs with warm water and use the Cuticura Soap. Finally, then, dry legs and rub on the Cuticura Ointment and she was cured in one week." (Signed) Mrs. P. J. McElroy, Aug. 1, 1912.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER

NONE SO EASY

Doubtless, Cucumbers.
A raveland cucumberist was "filing" in his dressing room, when a laundress, who happened to open the door by mistake, stepped across the threshold and stood spellbound, watching the performer, who was apparently tied in a knot on top of his trunk.

Noticing the look of consternation on the face of the unintentional intruder, and resolving to have some fun at the expense of the cucumberist, assumed a look of deep agony and groaned weakly:

"By gosh, that's the last time I'll ever cut cucumbers for supper!"—Judge.

Ingratitude.
"I helped an intoxicated man out of the gutter several weeks ago and put him aboard a car."

"The other day he wrote to the police asking them to find my address."

"A. I see. He wants to force $10,000 on you."

"No; he says he thinks I must have placed his watch."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Need For haste.
The Doctor—Mrs. Brown has sent for me to go and see her boy, and I must be in time.

His Wife—What is the matter with the boy?

The Doctor—Don't know, but Mrs. Brown has a book on "What to do before the doctor comes," and I must hurry up before she does it.—New York Globe.

Fared the Other.
The man of great financial prominence went with an accident to the hospital. "We'll have to probe," said the doctor.

Just at that moment the man recovered consciousness and exclaimed:

"If it's a surgical operation go ahead, but if it's another investigation give me an anesthetic."—Washington Star.

The Fatal Day Was Near.
"Charles seems to be very excited," said a fond mamma to the dear girl who was dressing for the wedding.

"Never mind, mamma," said the sweetly, "they are his last wishes."—Lippincott.

New Form of Music.
He was a fellow of delicate organization. When he heard a sound which irritated him, he leaped madly to his feet and rushed from the room or, if it happened to be on the ground floor, dived through a window and landed in the flower garden.

Having been invited from the city to the country, he found himself surrounded every day by a family who did not understand the faintest idea of how to eat soup. He stood it two days, his jangling nerves urging him every moment to repeat the words: "The oldest daughter of the house confided to him her objection to her father's habit of eating soup in a loud manner."

The nervous visitor, who thought the father didn't have much on the daughter in this respect, exclaimed:

"I don't eat soup, son. He doesn't eat it; he whistles it!"—Popular Magazine.

Chicken and Chicken Pie.
A hungry customer seated himself at a table in a quick lunch restaurant and ordered a chicken pie. When it arrived he looked at it and gasped at the contents intensely for awhile. Finally he called the waiter.

"Look here, Sam," he said, "what did I order?"

"Chicken pie, sir."

"And what have you brought me?"

"Chicken pie, sir, you black rascal!" the customer replied. "Chicken pie! Why there's not a piece of chicken in it and neither was."

"That's all right, boss. They ain't no chicken in it."

"Then why do you call it chicken pie? I never heard of such a thing."

"That's all right, boss. They don't have to be no chicken in a chicken pie. They ain't no dog in dog biscuit, is they?"—Everybody's Magazine.

An Agile Locomotive.
"What are the passengers looking out of the window for?" asked a nervous lady passenger on the train as the conductor said to her to get up.

"We run over a cat, ma'am," said the conductor.

"What was the cat on the track?" she next asked.

"Oh, no, ma'am," answered the conductor. "The locomotive chased her up the alley."—What to Eat.

Lesson in Pronunciation.
"How do you pronounce that word 'divorce'?" professor asked Mr. Shalston.

"That's 'divorce' or 'divorce'?"

"That's all depends, my young friend," smiled the professor. "When Mrs. Jones says the 'divorce' for her divorce I should have said 'divorce' for 'divorce'."

"But she has come through with a 'divorce' I should say that 'divorce' is a justifiable form."—Harper's Weekly.

Sign of Wealth.
"Is he rich?"

"Yes, he's so rich that his neighbors have all begun to tell what they do for charity if it will help his money."—Detroit Free Press.

Ships Are Longest Lived Transport

Commerce last longer than anything else that man makes. There are brooches and necklaces in museums more than four centuries old. Monuments, perhaps, stand second, and houses third. The life of furniture is shorter still. There is very little furniture left which dates beyond the year 1600. Pictures last longer than furniture, and there are paintings of the fourteenth century which have weathered six centuries of life.

Of all machines made by man, probably none can compare for long life with the clock. The life of the clock is as much longer than that of any other machinery as the life of a man is to that of a dog.

The French clock of Rouen has a great clock which was built in the year 1389, and is still keeping good time. Except for cleaning and a few necessary repairs, it has never stopped during a period of more than five centuries. It strikes the hours, and chimes the quarters.

There are still afloat, at least a dozen sailing vessels which have weathered the storms of centuries. The Italian vessel Anita, built in Genoa in 1544, has made her last voyage in 1897. That was from Tenebrice to Naxos. She was thus more than 350 years old. Alas! she has been lost.

She was a cruel fate for such a wonderful old relic.

Steamships seldom last more than forty years. Of those built between 1816 and 1835, there is not, we believe, a single one afloat. The life of modern steamships is much shorter than that of her wooden predecessor. As for warships, they are still more short-lived.

Only last year the sailing vessel left Black Sea for Durban, a distance of 6,000 miles. The ship was built at Southampton in 1816, and in 1832 was driven from her moorings at "ole, and was found in a turnip field. One of the big engines of the London and North Western railway, built in 1845, has run for 20,000 miles. An English locomotive travels on an average only about 20,000 miles a year, so this wonderful performance is equal to one hundred years' service on an ordinary basis.

In fact, the engine in question has been worked five times as long as the average, and has accomplished its task within a period of twenty years.

Quite how long a well built locomotive will last in running order is hardly known. Six years ago the famous "Lord of the Isles" was scrapped at Swindon. She was one of our Great Western class, a gauge engine, and was built in 1842. She was in perfect running order up to the end of her long life of more than sixty years.

When Commissioner Allen had charge of the patent office in Washington he was punctilious about the respect due him in his position, and demanded full tribute from every one who came before him.

One day he was sitting at his desk when two men came in without knocking, and announced and without removing their hats.

Allen looked up and impaled the intruder with his gaze. "Gentlemen," he said severely, "who are visitors to this office to see me are always announced and always remove their hats."

He replied one of the men, we do not visit, we are here to see you about seeing you. We came in to fix the steam pipes.

Headquarters.
Do you have as much trouble finding your cuff and collar buttons as you used to?

"Yes, I always find 'em in one place now."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; I go to the vacuum cleaner."

His Proposition.
Do you think you are able to support your daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed.

"I don't know, sir, but I'll tell you what I can do."

"What's that?"

"I'll reduce her allowance to 50 per cent of her present cost to you."

GROWING STRONGER.
Apparently With Advancing Age.

"At the age of 60 years I collapsed from excessive coffee drinking, and wrote a Western man. Tea is just as injurious, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee. For four years I shambled about with the aid of crutches or cane, most of the time unable to dress myself without help."

"My feet were greatly swollen. My right arm was shrunk and twisted, and the fingers of my right hand were clenched and could not be extended except with great effort and pain. Nothing seemed to give me more than temporary relief."

"Now, during all this time and for about 30 years previously I drank coffee an average of 6 cups of strong coffee—rarely missing a day."

"My wife at last took my case into her own hands and bought some Postum. She made it according to directions and I liked it fully as well as the best high-grade coffee."

"Improvement came at once. In about a month I began to get on my feet, and in less than a year I was very much better, improving rapidly from day to day. I am now a healthy man, and apparently growing stronger with advancing age."

"I can busy every day at some kind of work and am able to keep up with the procession with me were once almost useless, now keep far ahead. In rapidity of movement and beauty of person."

None finer by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

"The little 'Postum' 'Road to Well-being'."

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. Instant Postum dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and with the addition of cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly.

There's a reason for Postum.

Hunger Hoologianism in Russia.
One of the results of the oppressive laws and backward conditions in Russia generally today is the appearance during the past year or two, of hunger hoologianism. Assaults, depredations on property, robberies and similar crimes are of daily occurrence, and the police are apparently indifferent.

The situation has become so serious that Maklakov, minister of the interior, recently called a conference of governors and other high officials to consider measures against the evil. It was decided to give the governors powers to deal with the hoologians summarily without trial. This measure proved to the liking of the provincial governors and was applied so vigorously that the minister was compelled to advise them to use their power with discretion.

They applied the law with such moderation that it has caused far deeper than such measures go.

It is no doubt a dire poverty of the people and to alcoholism, which is one of the largest sources of income for the government.

At the end of last year there was realized from the sale of alcoholic drinks—which is a government monopoly—in Russia, more than $80,000,000 roubles ($400,000,000). Minister Maklakov, with an amazing forecast, in Russia, said that the hoologians would consider it the progress of the world, in the American Review of Reviews for September.

An Idiot Inspires Desire.
It was some time ago that the highest and truest of ideals—the human race were started.

This is perhaps connected with the fact that the most perfect safeguard comes from nature. For instance, frequently a woman, even of full natural intellect, has a special desire for progeny. Then a strong love comes, and to what was only a general idea, a woman, is added a real longing, an intense imagining of "my pleasure."

And what a sole, a joyous and joyful prospect it would be together. First a woman, then a child, then a family prepared. Nature takes care of us. She is often careless, but judge by her sense and candor, she is in harmony and depth.

An Obscure Parrot.
Harold to the young woman on whom he was calling. How is he on imitating?

"Grat, said the hostess. He can imitate almost anything."

Over at Smith's continued Harold. "I can imitate a cat. Can your bird do that?"

"No, indeed, answered Mabel indignantly. Parrots, can only imitate, and it is not likely that our bird could imitate a cat."

Then Polly spoke.

"I don't know, said it. I said. Wait until I take this wretched bird out of the room."

In the Same Channels.
Isn't it astonishing to note the coincidence of great minds—when the moon shines below?

Diet and Nationality.
Among modern nations the great eaters are the British, Germans, French, and Americans—the ruling people of our civilization. The diet of the Spaniards and the Italians is notably less substantial than that of the British and Germans, just as their brains are less active and original.

The "Family Doctor." The Americans are on the average the great eaters in the world said Carlyle to Emerson. The best thing I know of that country is that in it, man can have meat for his life.

Minors' Unliment Cures, Etc.
Papa how often have I told you not to say I see you.

Now you look here Maggie! I'm running an old man laying down his knife and fork maybe you will make your living by good grammar and high or classical Latin.

My dear papa, you are just as much as ever, and I demand that you should be a little better. So what I say, give, whether she's grammatical or not.

Advice.
Edith—I am always afraid Jack will kiss me. If he does, whatever shall I do?

Mattie—Pay him back in his own coin, goosey.

Mother—Don't ask me no questions, child, until I tell the cat.
Willie—What did the cat want to know?

Gus—The idea of his saying I had lost my money! A brains!
Quits! ridiculous!

Jack—That's not.
Maggie—That's not. Why, I haven't got a cent.

Jack—Well!

Pegging-Away

Men seldom mount at a single bound.
To the ladder's very top;
They must slowly climb it, round by round.

With many a start and stop.
And the winner is sure to be the man
Who labors day by day,
For the world has found that at the safest plan
Is to keep on pegging away.

You have read, of course, about the hare.
And the tortoise—the tale is old—
How they ran a race—K counts not where—
And the tortoise won, we're told.
The hare was sure he had time to pause.
And to browse about and play,
So the tortoise won the race because
He just kept pegging away.

A little toll and a little rest,
And a little more is earned than usual,
Is sure to bring to a honest breast
A blessing of glad content,
Who know the great virtue of this excellent
Belong to day by day.

Be diligent day by day,
And you'll get your after-while
If you just keep pegging away.
—Nixon Waterman.

Mr. Worn Powders needed the support of testimonials they could be got by the thousands, from mothers who knew the great virtue of this excellent medicine. But the powders will speak for themselves, and in such a way that there can be no question of their merit. They act speedily and thoroughly, and the child to whom they are administered will show improvement from the first dose.

It was a warm, radiant summer morning; the birds were singing sweetly, the flowers and dewy grass shimmered in the sparkling sunlight, and there, in the park, Robert Peel—a very junior officer—was doing his duty. He was on a horse, and his attention on the pretty aurore-dawn, whilst the latter's small charge busily chased the butterflies.

He signed the dashing Robert; I wish you were my governor!

So do I, replied the girl.

Hope ardent, into Robert's heart. And what would you do with me? he asked.

Stop your smoking cigarettes and get your hair cut, to say nothing of punishing you for talking nonsense during school hours.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia.
Postponed Bliss.

They had just been married, that was plain to see, a favorable omen for the railway platform as if it were a church aisle. They had already done their duty in the carriage, but they were all full up. The guard blew his whistle, and the couple were obliged to dash for the nearest compartment.

Do you think we could squeeze in here?

She blushed, and bashfully pulled him back. Oh, Harold, she whispered, I think we had better wait until we get home.

A Difference.
Foeman—What's your name?

Foeman—Stimpson, sir.

Foeman—Stimpson, bring along your plates, and that crane over here.

Laborer—Excuse me, sir, I said my name was Stimpson, not Sanson.

Attendant—Break it right mum!

Old Lady—I ain't thinking about the right. It reminds me that I've left the kitchen tap running.

Warts will render the prettiest hands unsightly. Clean the excesses away by using Holloway's Corn Cure, which acts thoroughly and painlessly.

Her Age.
The sudden lady of uncertain age became very indignant when the census taker asked her age.

Did you see the girls next door, she asked, looking at the census taker.

Certainly, replied the census man. And did they tell you their age?

Yes, she snapped as she shut the door in his face. I am just as old as they are!

Oh, very well, said the census man to himself, and he wrote down in the book: Jane Johnson—as old as the hills.

Tess—Oh, poor Tom, dear you must not ask papa tonight. He lost a whole lot of money in stocks today. Tom—Just the right time, then. He won't have nerve enough to return me about the care of money.

Mistress—Mary, how is it that I see you have been treating your friends with my cake and fruit. Mary—I can't tell, ma'am, for the loaf of me, for I thought I covered the keyhole.

He—(laughingly)—It is too hot to propose.
She—Not to propose an ice-cream for an automobile ride.

That Wonderful Event
IF THERE is a time above all times when a woman should be in perfect physical condition it is the time previous to the coming of her babe.

During this period many women suffer from headache, dizziness, pains of various descriptions, poor appetite, and a host of other ailments which should be eliminated, in order that the new life may be born in the best of health.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

READING ALOUD IS A LOST ART

Few Persons Make any Pretense of Being Accomplished That Way

All of us have striven to be many kinds of good citizens that we never succeed in being and no doubt every man in town likewise has not tried his hand at verse making, or taking lessons on the mandolin, or fortifying himself with a course in the study of the law. This, of course, is as it should be, since it is the method of discovering true talent as well as the lack of it. But for all our industry, not a few of us have missed things we might have done well. How many of the daughters of men who faithfully practice singing with throats never meant for song, could become an everlasting joy to their friends if they would apply themselves with half the zeal to the art of reading aloud?

A lamentable constant arises up on many otherwise gracious persons when they undertake to do this simple thing. The fifth reader was the last fair practice they had. We may have a hopeless time emulating the charm and wit the acquaintance of Stevenson, for example, admired in his conversation, but we can reflect a little of them on occasion. The late Mr. Stevenson, for example, admired in his conversation, but we can reflect a little of them on occasion. Valuable Knowledge

The Middleton ambulance class was being examined.

When a certain brainy fellow was asked to describe the circulation of the blood he promptly replied: Well, the blood is pumped from the heart through the blood vessels of the leg and right to the bottom of the foot.

Yes, said the examiner, you are right as far as you go, but how does it return?

The yokel hesitated a minute. Then he replied: Up the other leg.

VARICOSE VEINS AND ITCHING PILES

Usually Arise From Same Cause—Relief and Cure Effected By Dr. Chase's Ointment

Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids. But a medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment.

Mrs. J. E. Evans, 187 Munro Street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for several years. I have been troubled with varicose veins, and find it the only thing that gives relief. For every purpose, it is a soothing, healing ointment. It is needed there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment." (O cents a box at all drug stores, or Edman's, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.)

There's a real 'good roads' enthusiast in County Wick, Ireland. His name is Joe Clark, and when the 'Meridian Evening Star' interviewed him after the roads had been improved, he said:

"I live four miles from the city and two miles from the coast. This is the worst winter I have ever seen, but there hasn't been a single day when my children haven't walked to school, and not a single day have they come home with wet feet, and so, think they walked down the middle of the road. Not one of them. I would rather have a cold, even while here, than have my children have been more than my road tax. Talk to me about long taxes to build roads! I am willing to pay taxes on my pack of fox hounds, my birds, my chickens, my horses, and, if necessary, my wife and children, if they will use it in extending roads like this all over the country, but I would rather have my house, and ten acres of land on this road like it, than have any whole farm on the old road like it was before improvement."

I am willing to pay taxes on my pack of fox hounds, my birds, my chickens, my horses, and, if necessary, my wife and children, if they will use it in extending roads like this all over the country, but I would rather have my house, and ten acres of land on this road like it, than have any whole farm on the old road like it was before improvement."

There's a real 'good roads' enthusiast in County Wick, Ireland. His name is Joe Clark, and when the 'Meridian Evening Star' interviewed him after the roads had been improved, he said:

"I live four miles from the city and two miles from the coast. This is the worst winter I have ever seen, but there hasn't been a single day when my children haven't walked to school, and not a single day have they come home with wet feet, and so, think they walked down the middle of the road. Not one of them. I would rather have a cold, even while here, than have my children have been more than my road tax. Talk to me about long taxes to build roads! VALUE OF THE BANANA

Its Increased Use as a Food May Influence Diplomacy

Figures show that the world is just awakening to the value of the banana as a food. In the present, the banana is a food of the tropics, the acreage devoted to banana-growing must rapidly increase. This can be easily done for the areas suitable have as yet only been touched. Improved refrigeration and quick steam service will continue to widen the area in which the product can be marketed, and be its present use as a fruit, it will be used as it now is in the tropics where it is boiled green as a vegetable, and manufactured into a confection known as banana figs. The development of the banana flour industry, also promises to open a market for the product of areas too distant to profit by the demand for fresh fruit, just as the perfection of the manufacture of copra, the dried meat of the coconut has opened up a new industry reaching to the farthest islands of the Pacific.

The increased production of the banana in its natural state, and the diversification of its uses promise to introduce a new and hitherto neglected factor in our food supply. If present development continues, it will raise the banana from its present dependence on foreign markets for food to one of the various food crops which will meet as one of their competitors in feeding the world, the banana plantations of the American Mediterranean.

An immediate consequence of the development of the direct trade with Europe, now just beginning, will be to threaten the supremacy of the United States in some of the Central American countries. People buy their goods, other things being equal, in the countries where their own products find their best sale. If improved transportation facilities for the banana trade develop between the Caribbean and Europe, it is but natural that European manufactured goods will be carried on the return voyage.

From the Montreal Star

From our past experience, let us remember, one of the most delicate problems with which our men of state have to deal, is the diplomacy of the Caribbean.

A Speaking Clock

A speaking clock has just been shown in Berlin, says The Hamburger Nachrichten. At every quarter of an hour it emits a voice which calls out the time clearly and distinctly. Three o'clock; A quarter of three; Half-past three; and so on. Possessed of such a clock, we could possibly peacefully bury ourselves in our work without any fear of missing an important engagement. We could surrender ourselves to the joys of sport, when every quarter of an hour we are reminded by the warning voice. In the morning we need not worry over an alarm; the voice of the clock, which we can make quick or slow at pleasure, will do the waking. If we don't want to hear the voice of conscience, we need only switch off the machinery. The invention is due to the idea of a Berlin man, named Selen, whose idea was carried into practice after long wrestling with difficulties by a man named Mark Markus. It may prove useful to astronomers, and with a slight change in the working it could be made to call out the times of the stations in our railway carriages. To exploit this invention a company, it being formed in Berlin with a capital of $700,000.

A Boy with a Future

Ma, exclaimed young Teddy, bursting into the house, Mrs. Johnson, would you give me a penny if I told you what you said about me?

"I never heard of such a thing!" said his mother indignantly. "You're a very good boy but to have told me that!"

"I should think I am, ma! When she showed me this penny I told her that what you said was something awful and worth sixpence at least."

P - Girl

A young woman failed to pass her examination for appointment as teacher in the public school of a small town.

Her mother was terribly disappointed and decided to interview one of the examiners.

"I am sorry, madam, the exam said that your daughter did not pass her examinations, but there is nothing I can do about it. You know, madam, that no one is to blame but herself. She is blame! exclaimed the woman wrathfully. Well, sir, perhaps you do not know that when examiners asked her questions about lots of things that happened years ago in your school, she was born."

D - Dress Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot be removed. There is only one way to cure dressness and that is by the use of the "Cure Dressness" ointment. It is a powerful medicine, and when it is introduced into the pores of the skin, it is absorbed, and the dressness is removed. It is a powerful medicine, and when it is introduced into the pores of the skin, it is absorbed, and the dressness is removed.

Jones (to his landlady)—Very sorry, madam, but I have torn the curtain in the sitting room.

Landlady—Oh, no, sir; I'll put it down as extra rent.

It Down—Disorders of the Digestive Apparatus should be dealt with at once before complications arise that may be difficult to cope with. The "Laxative" is a safe and one that is within reach of all, is Laxative's Vegetable Pills, the best laxative and medicine on the market. Do not delay, but try them now. One trial will convince anyone that they are the best every-day regulator that can be got.

Mrs. Mannes (who has given Tommy a slice of bread and butter)—

That's right! I like to hear little boys say: "Thank you, Ma!"

Landlady—Oh, no, sir; I'll put it down as extra rent.

CHEAPER THAN GASOLINE

British Discovery Will Cut the Price for Motor Spirit One-Third

The joint committee appointed by the Royal Automobile Club, the Automobile Association and the Society of Motor Manufacturers, to find an efficient substitute for gasoline, has discovered a process which, it is said, will produce 40,000 gallons of motor spirit annually without in any way depleting the country's mineral resources. It involves the utilization of by-product of coal hitherto unsuitable for motor fuel.

Experts have made a full investigation with excellent results and a full sized commercial plant is being built and the spirit can be sold for not more than six pence a gallon, probably for less. The secretary of the committee shows that the oil consumption of motor spirit in Great Britain is about 100,000,000 gallons and that the present price of gasoline is 42 cents a gallon.

Your True Friend—The Dog

Do not turn a homeless dog aside when he appeals to you for food and shelter, but take him in. This is a duty you owe your God toward His helpless dumb creatures, which were placed on earth in our care. They are ours to use but not to abuse or permit others to do so.

Never be ashamed to speak in defense of those who cannot speak for themselves. It is only the cowardly and weak that stand by and see cruelty committed and make no effort to stop it.

Treat your dog kindly, for a cross word from your lips may breed a kind word or act makes him supreme happy and contented. Feed him well; give him plenty of fresh clean water to drink; make him comfortable and warm; and for this kindness he will ever be grateful. He will love you, appreciate his home and guard it for you. Can you find a human friend as faithful as your dog?

GIRL SUFFERED TERRIBLY

At Regular Intervals—Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured her.

Arlan, Texas.—"I take pleasure in adding my testimonial to the great list and hope that it will be of interest to suffering women. For four years I suffered under agonies at regular intervals. Such pains and cramps, severe chills and shiverings, then finally became so bad that I was nearly blind. I had five doctors and none of them could do more than relieve me for a time."

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took seven boxes of it and used two bottles of the Sanative Wash, and I am completely cured of my trouble. When I began taking the Compound I only weighed ninety-six pounds and now I weigh one hundred and twenty-five pounds. If anyone wishes to address me in person I will cheerfully answer all letters, as I cannot speak too highly of the Pinkham remedies."—Miss Jessie Mason, Arlan, Texas.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have accumulated are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultants) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Business Tip

Ragman—Any old bottles today, mum?

Woman—No, but you might try Mr. Caken's next door; his wife's coming back from the seashore tomorrow.

Local and General

Mrs. E. L. Foster arrived from St. Paul, Minn., on Sunday.

The C.P.R. have replaced the barbed-wire fence along their property by an improved hog-wire fencing.

Rev. C. C. McLaurin occupied the pulpit at Central Baptist church on Sunday morning and evening.

The first car of malt for the Blairmore Brewery arrived today, and brewing operations will commence at once.

We have just received a few barrels of Ontario apples, "Russets," "Russells" and "Tallman's Sweet," F. M. Thompson Co.

Christmas is already putting in an appearance in the local stores, and many reminders of the great universal holiday are in evidence.

Come along with your Christmas advertising. The extent of our circulation is sufficient guarantee that the men who advertise will carry the day.

Dan Lewis arrived from Calgary on Monday, and has assumed charge of the rink. It is expected that the rink will be ready for business early next week.

A fire broke out in the store of A. L. Blais at Frank on Wednesday morning, causing considerable damage to stock which was partly covered by insurance.

An adjourned meeting of the directors of the Blairmore Brewery was held in Blairmore on Tuesday, when matters were finalized for the operation of the plant.

Victor Lemieux, Blairmore's leading tonorial artist, returned from Limer City on Wednesday, where he is erecting a tonorial parlor combined with a Mormon citadel.

We are agents for McLaughlin vehicles. If you need a heavy or light sleigh or cutter, see us. The goods are fully guaranteed and prices right.—The Blairmore Hardware Co.

The sale of work held on Wednesday night by the Presbyterian Women's Guild proved a fair success and the sum of about $60 was netted to go towards the new church fund.

A large number of men have gone to the McLaren lumber camp during the week. We understand that the Company intend operating on a more extensive scale in 1914 than heretofore.

Jack McPhail is wearing a heavy smile this week over the arrival Thursday night of a bouncing boy. Of course "Jack" can smile at any time; but it takes a sudden jab to make him squeal!

A large arc-light has just been installed at the railway crossing on Ninth avenue, and we understand it is the intention of the town to place a similar light on the crossing near the depot.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the large advertisement of The F. M. Thompson Co., who are conducting a mammoth money raising sale under the superintendence of the Mutual Creditors Association of Winnipeg.

"The Enterprise" begs to apologize for being behind time last week and the week previous, the reason being our moving into new quarters. We now occupy one of the finest buildings in Blairmore and are in a position to cater to the ever-increasing needs of the public for reliable printing.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. A. Cameron, jeweler, of Coleman, which appears elsewhere in this issue. For some time past Mr. Cameron has been suffering from a serious illness and was obliged to enter the hospital at Coleman for special treatment. Although out of hospital, he is yet in a very weak condition, so much so that he feels obliged to go out of business and move to a new climate. Consequently he is making special reductions on his large stock of jewelry and fancy goods, before transferring his business to his successor.
